“Una iniciativa reveladora de las exquisitas inquietudes humanistas y de promoción cultural de Technologies To The People, es su colección de vídeo. Se trata de una antología de videoarte internacional disponible para su consulta en línea y gratuita, teleportando así un fondo con el que varios museos de medio pelo quisieran contar a una gran audiencia potencial que ni los artistas y videoartistas más celeberrimos, o que lo fueron, pudieran nunca antes soñar.

Ciertamente, dicha selección antológica no supera en cantidad a las que han conseguido reunir otros centros –museos, fundaciones, archivos, etc.– ya que fue establecida a modo de prototipo con la redonda cifra de 100 títulos. En cambio, la visión de futuro de la Technologies To The People Video Collection ha residido en apremiar la calidad desecharable para la correcta recepción de estas obras tal como fueron concebidas originalmente: para ser visualizadas a toda pantalla, con la debida resolución y a su correcta cadencia. Mientras que los referidos centros todavía no han resuelto la ubicación en red de sus fondos, ni los complicados aspectos legales que ello conlleva, Technologies To The People se ha anticipado al aportar soluciones mediante un impresionante despliegue de arquitecturas propietarias y licenciadas que el usuario puede descargar de la misma red. Además de constituir una encomiable operación de mecenazgo y fomento en un campo un tanto alicaído últimamente, cual es el de la videocreación, Technologies To The People se ha avanzado a las posibilidades que ahora mismo se desatan con la apoteosis del vídeo digital”. Eugeni Bonet

“An initiative that equally reveals the exquisite humanistic concerns of Technologies To The People and their politics of cultural promotion, is one we are pleased to mention for the part we have played in its success. It is an anthology of international video art available on-line and free of cost, able to tele-transmit to a huge potential audience (unthinkable for even the most famous of artists or video-artists, of today or yesterday) a collection which a number of mediocre museums would be delighted to own.

While it is true that this anthological selection does not outnumber the works assembled by other centres (museums, foundations, archives, etc.), given that it was established as a prototype with the round figure of 100 titles. The forward-looking approach of the Technologies To The People Video Collection lies in pressurising for the desirable quality and correct reception of these works as they were originally conceived: to be visualised full-screen with the proper resolution and the right rhythm. While the aforementioned centres have still not settled the issue of the location of their collections in the net, or that of the complicated legal aspects that this involves, Technologies To The People has anticipated them by offering solutions by means of an impressive display of proprietary and licensed architectures that the user can download from the net itself. In addition to constituting a commendable operation of sponsorship and promotion in a field – that of video creation – which has recently been somewhat neglected, Technologies To The People leads the prospects emerging at this very moment with the apotheosis of digital video”. Eugeni Bonet

Guday fellow postinios. Possibility to submit? Home made, too hard to sell, 3rd world

Hi, Im an artist from Mexico. Please write me and send me information of other amateurs artist. I do installation and object-art. Thanks and Ill be waiting for news

It is possible to see this artistisc works in connexion on-line? How many minutes? or It's possible to see the completn works? Thank you

Hey, Which kind of software I need to watch video?

Yours videos can not be downloaded

Hola! Aposti que esta guay!

I am an art history graduate student with a three year old Toshiba lap top and virtually no hope of ever deriving any benefit from your site. Is there any way you can send these videos using system requirements I can support? Real networks and every other aggressive on-line marketeer has found a way to do it. In general, I don't think your target audience will have the sort of hardware this page demands. I like the drama of the error messages, though, and I'm not sure if I'm supposed to go home and sulk finding out my computer can't support your page or be depressed that people interested in archiving Baldessari videos are at the same timeso pathetically hung up on muscle computers.

Hello..... I'm an artist. I live in sicily I'm iterest of your ordinament..... please write me.

Artists fees. When one lists a video art tape with you how does one receive the royalty payments for its use? Hope to hear from you soon

I want recive your ordinament.

Dear sir/madam, I am a second year fine art student whose work is primarily concerned with video and photography. this year we have been assigned a professionalstudies module which includes a work experience stint and enquiries into alternative as well as traditional gallery space. I would be grateful for any pointers or advicethat you may be able to offer and look forward to talking to you soon...your sincerely

Dear Sir, we are looking for high quality spectacular videos and other multimedia productions you may consider useful for human relaxation, sleep & wellness. (subliminal free) We would like to receive free demos for evaluation, a free catalog and the cost of television broadcasting fees from the owner of them.Thank You

To where? where is this al leading to?

Are you sick or what ... You make me drool for yor VIDEO-ART-Classics collection and then start asking me for unbelievable plugins and system resources ... you sure R iRational! ... is this an art piece or just fucking up (why on earth am I asking this after I meet Heath @LAbin RAdioactive workshop)?

My computer is just five months old so why doesn't work? Not much people can afford all that requirements to see the films. Is this a ricman's entertainment site? or what...

We wanted to watch some of your videos, but without being succesful. Your server could not establish a socked connection. Do we need any plug-in?? Greetings from Berlin

WWWWOOOUUUAAAHHH, what a good job you've done there, do you think I'M SEXY please answer this and take care cordially tomato G from Paris

I desperately want to get into the collection but evey time i try to connect it says my recources are insufficient. I have all the listed requirments except for Navigator 5 which i cant find on the web. Could you let me know where i could download it? Signed Frustrated and Confused

Spend more time

Hi there, it's great that i need the newest software and hardware to see your movies. ok, that are your rules... and now i have to buy and buy and buy and... give my money away to the companies and buy and buy and... but maybe i could see the video by gary hill in a museum. are the museums democratic places because i don't have to spent all my money before seeing an artvideo? but that are your rules, ok. please don't made it too simple to the people! technology rules, ok! bernd

You cats fucking rock

I can't see your tapes i would like toknow how to do i don't have enough money to get a fucking macG4 FUCK YOU BYE

Hi your is a good site i'm an art historian and i would like to have more informatione about you bye your friend lukas of amoebas corporation

Fuck off!

Please let me know what technical resources are required to be able to view the tapes.thanks

Were is the transmission found in the ruins

Great collection! thanks

What a load of rubbish

I have just found this list of videoworks on technologies to the people. Is it possible to see the videos? Could you tell me how? It's not working on my machine. Which technical requirements are needed? Thanks best wishes

Dear Technologies To the People, What...Am I dreaming? I want to see everything you have listed, but I'm unclear how one accesses the pieces and how we might work together. I am a video artist myself and the video curator at the xxxxx in charge of the video collection. Please tell me more specifically how we might proceed. Thanks

Daniel how does one submit works to your programming? thanks xxxxx Productions -HA HA

You are illegally broadcasting tapes by many artists over the internet (Viola, Nauman, etc.)

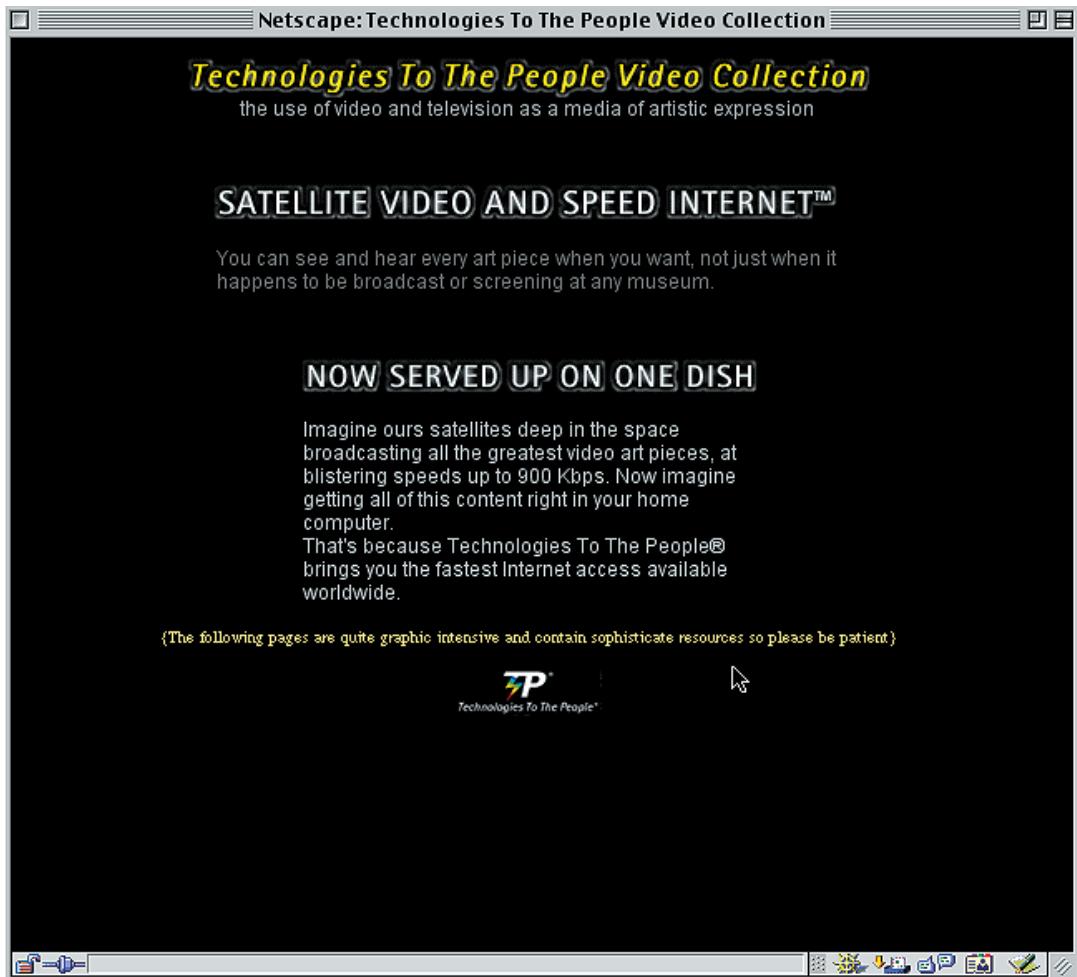

Dear Irational.org This is one of the best internet video collections I have yet seen. I have viewed many of these works and I am utterly impressed. How did you manageto get such high resolution for all these transmissions? Thanks.

Hi, i see you are using my videotape and wondered how you got it and what rights were obtained from whom Technologies To The People Dear friends, I am writing to you in order to introduce you to my works on video and asking you if Technologies To The People Video Collection accept my videos I am a videoartist/painter and musician If it is affirmative which are the conditions? I want send you , for your consideration, a VHS PALcopy

Dear Daniel >You can see and hear every art piece when you want... how much is this? Greetings

The following excerpt (from the "Video collection Alert" page) is worth visiting the site for: We assume that all our audience are using the last hardware and software technology please check: check problem 1 check problem 2 check problem 3 check problem 4 check problem 5 check problem 6 plug-ins that you need Try connecting again with better resources, sorry.
